

Young Professionals Institute 2024

Looking for the skills that will bring you long-term success in your career?

Then this professional development opportunity is exactly what you've been looking for.

The Young Professionals Institute will take you through several hands-on, business simulation exercises to teach you the skills you need to excel in your workplace and reach your professional goals. These skills—team work, communication, decision-making, problem-solving and adaptability—are among the top skills employers today are looking for in prospective employees as well as candidates for advancement.

You will:

- ✓ Hone leadership skills needed in the modern workplace
- ✓ Learn to be proactive and resilient in today's constantly changing business environment
- ✓ Explore emerging workforce trends
- ✓ Build professional relationships through several networking opportunities
